With the changing world scenario, the need for effective and efficient managers has increased manifold. The organizations require managers with analytical and problem solving abilities enabling them to exploit the opportunities presented. Today, the most important pre-requisite for managers is to have well-developed communication skills so that they not only are able to communicate within the organizations but also with the groups outside the organization, customers, suppliers, government and the community. The development of these skills not only requires strong theoretical knowledge but also a practical experience. Although the four weeks internship program has not fully developed these abilities but it has at least given me a feel of the market. It has, to some extent, enabled me to see the relevance and applicability of various tools and theories of management. Moreover, this training has created an awareness of the various career opportunities available in the market as well as the tough competition. We, the students of commerce, have to face in securing jobs.
